Rethinking the traditional stool

The rethinking of something as simple as a stool was the starting point for Normann Copenhagen's Tap stool. The designer Simon Legald has taken up the challenge and breathed new life into the traditional stool with original materials and details. In doing so, he has created a practical and beautiful design in the cross field of craftsmanship and industry. Tap is an unexpected, different, yet familiar stackable stool in a class of its own. The molded seat ensures good seating comfort and provides the stool with the same welcoming warmth known from upholstered furniture. The three legs have an integrated transition to the seat. This gives Tap the appearance of a unified whole, even when seen from the side.

Product Facts

Description

Tap is a different yet familiar stackable stool. The stool surprises you with its unexpectedly comfortable seat made from molded foam with a flexible, sealed surface. The three legs are smoothly integrated into the seat. This gives Tap the appearance of a unified whole even when seen from the side.

Designer / Year Of Design

Simon Legald / 2014

Material

Seat: PU foam

Legs: Oak veneer / Walnut veneer / Painted and lacquered oak

Construction

The seat of the Tap stool is made of a hard PU foam with a closed cell structure for durability and easy maintenance. The Tap stool comes flat-packed. Assembly manual included.

Maintenance

Clean with a damp cloth.

We recommend to check and tighten screws every 3-6 months. Please be aware that sharp edges can leave marks on the soft foam.
